Information about PROAP-CAPES financial resources

The financial resources that finance part of the research activities of the Graduate Program in Soil Science at UFC come from PROAP-CAPES. Other resources, when existing, come from research projects directly linked to the professor(s).

The accountability of the resources used by the advisor/student is made to the coordination of the Program, which publishes the expense report in the SEI (Electronic Information System of the Federal University of Ceará) in a configuration that allows access to those who are interested. The following are the amounts received for the 2017-2020 period.
